

MEDICAL QUOTATIONS

Pages with reference to book, From 179 To 180

Javed I. Kazi (Sind Medical College, Karachi - 75510.)

SUICIDE

Razors pain you;
Rivers are damp;
Acids stain you;
And drugs cause cramp.
Guns aren't lawful;
Nooses give;
Gasses smell awful
You might as well live.

DREAMS

Yet ate, in dreams, the custard of the day.
All that we see or seem.
Is but a dream within a dream.

APPENDICITIS

The patient suffered from chronic remunerative appendicitis.

APPETITE

Tis not the meat, but tis the appetite makes eating a delight.

BALDNESS

A hair in the head is worth two in the brush.

HEART

The only broken thing in the world which keeps on working.

GENERAL PRACTITIONER

In no profession does culture count for so much as in medicine, and no man needs it more than the general practitioner.

PATHOLOGY

Ugliness is a point of view: an ulcer is a wonderful to a pathologist.

PEPTIC ULCER

The hole in a man's stomach through which he crawls to escape from his wife.

NEUROSIS

A neurotic is the man who builds a castle in the air. A psychotic is the man who lives in it. And a psychiatrist is the man who collects the rent.

EARLY RISING

Early to rise and early to bed makes a male healthy and wealthy and dead.

EATING

Great eaters and great sleepers are incapable of anything else, that is great.

DOCTORS

Clinician learns less and less about more and more until he knows nothing about everything.
Researcher learns more and more about less and less until he knows everything about nothing.

COLDS

A person's age is not dependent upon the number of years that have passed over his head, but upon the number of colds that have passed through it.

ALCOHOL

First the man takes a drink, then the drink takes a drink, then the drink takes the man. When the wine is in, the wit is out. Candy is dandy but liquor is quicker.

FEAR

He who fears to suffer, suffers from fear. Fear is more pain than is the pain it fears.
